

Dr. Hamadoun Toure Awarded 1st ‘African’ Honorary Doctorate

Dr Hamadoun Toure being awarded an Honorary degree by Dr Charles Muligande. (Photo J Mbanda)

The United Kingdom Telecommunications Academy (UKTA) wishes to congratulate Dr. Hamadoun Toure Secretary General of the International Telecommunications Union (ITU) on receiving his first Honorary Doctorate from an institution on the continent of Africa. The UKTA has worked with Dr. Toure for over 12 years and together with the ITU has been able to develop almost 500 MSc and MCM Graduates who now are highly regarded throughout the world.

His Excellency President Paul Kagame congratulated Dr. Toure on his award and high compliments were received several live, on Rwanda TV for the work of the UKTA by a number of Cabinet officials including Dr. Charles Murigande (Minister of Education) and Hon. Dr. Ignace Gatware (Minister in the President's Office in Charge of ICT).