

UKTA Award for Work of Special Note at KIST

Professor Izzat Darwazeh, Director of Telecommunications University College London has kindly agreed to make a $1,000 contribution to the United Kingdom Telecommunications Academy (UKTA) to enable a 'UKTA Award' which will in his opinion 'recognise work that is worthy of special note' and is intended for delegates participating on the Master of Communications Management programme taking place at Kigali Institute of Science and Technology (KIST) in Rwanda '.

This award has been presented for the very first time to Mr George Magonyozi from Tanzania who not only received a distinction but, his paper on Interconnection was adjudged as worthy of special note.

26th March 2008